BAND STORY

Corin Branch was born and raised in Trenton, New Jersey on January 9, 1988. He is the eldest son out of four siblings. Corin is not only involved in the hip hop community, but he's also a performer himself, and a man of many talents. He's just one of those pure artist, a person that can do anything involving art. At the age of 20 he started his freelance design business in which he creates artistically crafted designs for individuals and businesses of different kind. When he's not creating a masterpiece, he's writing or working. Even though he's not where he wants to be at in life, he still strives for the one true goal he longs for...to be the best the world has ever known.
